PROPOSALS

For Publishing, by Subscription,

THE COMPLETE WORKS OF

SIR WALTER SCOTT:

With a Biography: being the first American (and only) edition which contains the Author's last additions and illustrations, arranged upon their respective pages.

A COMPLETE and uniform edition of the various productions of the great 'Minstrel of the North,' is a desideratum with the American public. No library is complete without them, and no edition extant is sufficiently compact for such a repository; while the endless number of editions, without any uniformity in size, heretofore published, besides being exceedingly cumbrous, are far too voluminous and expensive to be within the reach of the great majority of readers. The undersigned therefore announce, that they have now in press, and will issue, an edition of the Works of Sir Walter Scott, which will embrace all his Poems, Novels, Histories, Biographies, and Fugitive Compositions, as well as the Biography and Private Correspondence, now in the course of publication in England, under the superintendence of Mr. Lockhart.

1st. In Parts: each Part embracing as much matter as is contained in two volumes of the present editions of the Waverley Novels, which will be put at the unprecedented low price of THIRTY SEVEN AND A HALF CENTS.

2d. Two parts will appear each month; but should the publishers find the work to meet the patronage they anticipate, FOUR PARTS will be issued monthly.

3d. The whole will be completed in seven volumes, or forty eight parts.

The paper on which the above is now printing, has been made expressly for the purpose; the present parts may, therefore, be considered a fair specimen, in every respect, of the whole work; but, should dissatisfaction arise with any subscriber, owing to an inferior article being offered, he may discontinue at any time, and have the amount paid returned.

Note.—The publication of the first volume is deferred until the receipt of the Biography, Private Correspondence, and the New Edition of the Author's Poetical Works, with 'contemporary criticism—various readings—and correspondence with some of the most eminent persons of the time when the Poems first appeared,' now in the course of publication in England.

Volume I will be ornamented with an excellent Portrait of Sir Walter Scott.

DAILY PITTSBURGH GAZETTE.

SATURDAY AFTERNOON, OCT. 5, 1833.

Something New in Allegheny.—Our Postmaster and our Sheriff have been riding the County for a week past, electioneering for the Assembly ticket. It is something new to see the Postmaster of Pittsburgh thus spending time which ought to be devoted to the duties of his office; but times have changed, and our Postmaster has been changed too. Our late Postmaster thought he was doing enough, when he faithfully performed the duties of his office—But we have now a new regime. Martin Van Buren requires all his dependents to set their shoulders to the wheel to roll his car along, and this sets Mr. Lynch in motion. Mr. Lecky has a claim of three or five hundred dollars, for whiskey furnished to men for building a dam on the canal, and wants to get a friend elected—this sets him in motion. He expects, if he can get his friend elected, his jigger bill will pass through the Legislature, and thus he will pocket three or five hundred dollars for distributing poison among his hands.—So that our Postmaster is moved by a Magician, and our Sheriff by a Spirit.

Our Modern Glendower will find that it is more easy to "call his spirits from the vasty deep," (dam) than to make them come, when they are called.

THE HANDBILL.—We were much amused, yesterday, upon reading an Address, signed by Patrick Mulvany, and John B. Butler, Joseph Snowden, and Robert Burke, Barney Coyle, and William Lecky, with an address attached, directed to the National Republicans. Some passages in this address are worth extracting.—We marked the following, particularly.

"It was your strength which elected the Antimasonic ticket last year, with promises of aid and co-operation, and division of the offices and honors arising out of their influence in the legislature.—* * Did they redeem their promises to you? No, indeed."

Now we do assert, most positively, that this is a wilful, downright, and palpable falsehood, and a base calumny upon both the National Republican and Antimasonic parties. We assert, most positively, that no such infamous bargain, "for the division of the honors and the offices," was ever made by the parties thus calumniated. The charge is utterly and entirely false, and we are truly surprized that Messrs. Butler and Burke, and other Clay[men, whose names are published with this address, would permit such an accusation. The conduct of the Jackson men, who sign the address, is natural and intelligible enough; they have been so long used to calumniating the Clay party, that it is only second nature with them! We call upon Messrs. Samuel Fahnestock, George W. Jackson, George R. White, Thomas Scott, and other National Republicans, who last year supported Ritner, and who this year go the whole hog for the Van Buren ticket, to say whether this is not a base and atrocious calumny. We ask those gentlemen to say whether they ever heard of any such thing as a promise to divide "the honors and offices." And we are sure that they will agree with us that this charge is utterly false. Last fall, the National Republicans professed to be governed entirely by principle. The Van Buren men now assert that their support of Mr. Ritner, and the Antimasonic ticket, was purchased by a promise of a share of "the honors and offices."

There are other passages in the Address, worthy of notice; we pass over them, however, and proceed to the following.

"Your eyes are now opened, and we see with pleasure many, nay, almost all of you, supporting the Democratic ticket, in opposition to Antimasonic proscription, and, trust us, you will not regret the confidence you place in the candidates of the Democratic party, who are opposed to all kinds of proscription, and whose supporters have given evidence of their sincerity in selecting from your ranks some of our candidates."

The Van Buren party 'opposed to proscription!' the Magician's party opposed to proscription! truly this is an impudent assertion. We need not refer to the long list of proscriptions at Washington, under the influence of the Magician. We will merely ask, through whose influence was our late able and devoted postmaster, William Eichbaum, jr., removed? Through whose influence was our present postmaster, the New Yorker, the indefatigable electioneerer, appointed?—and this, too, against the almost unanimous voice of the business men of this city.

In the latter clause, there is evidence of a real business way of doing things. In the former extract from this address, the Antimasons were charged with promising offices to the National Republicans, and then refusing to fulfil their promise. Messrs. Mulvany, Phillips, Gallagher, &c., go a little further—they do not pay the office in hand, but they give a kind of promissory note, by placing Mr. Hilands on their ticket.

From the United States Gazette, the leading National Republican paper in this State:

"The Sentinel seems to be anxious to avoid the imputation of being a Van Buren laborer. Nothing can be more useless than such attempt—nothing is more evident to every observer than the hand of the Vice President, in all the present proceedings of the party with which the Sentinel labors. The Van Buren paper, in Baltimore, and the Van Buren papers in New York, catch up the false report made by the Van Buren papers in this city, relative to the late ward election, and cry out victory. The Sentinel editors know perfectly well, that every movement which the outs make in Philadelphia, is solely by the dictation and agency of the Van Buren partisans. The public meetings are called by Van Buren men; they are officered by Van Buren men; they are addressed by Van Buren men; no distinction of democrats and federalists is dreamed of. The leading speakers, indeed we may say the only endurable speakers, are federalists and Van Buren men, openly and avowedly. Every vote that is given against the party now in power, in Philadelphia, will be given for Martin Van Buren for President. It will be so proclaimed abroad, and it will, within two weeks from the election, so appear in this city."

And again—

"The New York Van Buren papers are crowing lustily at what they call the great Van Buren victory in Philadelphia. Let them "bide a bit."—They have not yet got out of the swamp. There is another day of trial at hand. Next Tuesday will show the exact strength of Van Buren in Philadelphia."

From the United States Gazette.

AMERICAN BOARD OF MISSIONS.

The following is a brief abstract of the Annual Report of the American Board of Missions, recently read in this city.

"The board has at present under its care 22 missions viz: to Greece, Constantinople, Syria, the Jews, Bombay, Ceylon, Siam, China, the Indian Archipelago, the Sandwich Islands, the Patagonia, the Cherokees, West of the Mississippi, the Choctaws, the Creeks, the Osages, the Stockbridges, Mackinaw, the Ojibeways, Maumee, and Indians in New York. These missions include 60 stations, 83 ordained missionaries, 6 physicians not ordained, 6 printers, 26 other assistant missionaries, 126 females, 4 native preachers, 46 native assistants; making 247 laborers in the gospel sent from this country, and 50 native preachers, and assistants, which make a total of 297.

Of these, 48 persons have been sent out last year, viz: 19 ordained missionaries, 2 physicians, 2 printers, and 25 other assistants. The churches connected with, and formed by these missions, are in number 37, and contain, 1,704 communicants gathered from the heathen. The scholars connected with schools belonging to these missions are about 50,000. The presses of the board, last year, issued nearly 7,500,000 pages of the word of God, and other religious matter. Since the first establisment of these presses, they have printed for missionary purposes 68,000,000 of pages.—The board is about to commence immediately new missions in western and eastern Africa, in the islands of Crete and Cyprus in the Mediterranean, at Brussa, in Asia Minor, and in Persia. Several others are in contemplation on the eastern Continent, and among the American Indies.

The field explored under the direction of the board has been continually enlarging. Its messengers have been among the Indian tribes along the whole extent of our southwestern border, far towards the Rocky Mountains. Others have been sent to the great Lakes, and beyond them, and to the head waters of the Mississippi. One has explored a part of the northwest coast. Another has visited Mexico, and most of the Independent States of South America. Others have visited the Washington Islands. Others are stationed on the southern borders of China and in Siam, and in the northern part of Ceylon, and in western India. It has observers also in Syria, and in the capital of the Moslem Empire; at Athens, anciently the eye of Greece, and at Malta; and has pushed its inquiries through the northern provinces of Asia Minor, into the Caucasian countries, and the borders of Persia. Another is about proceeding to western Africa; and a mission to the eastern shores of that continent waits only for the suitable men to commence it. Within a few months it is intended to occupy a post that shall throw light upon the condition of ancient Crete; and another post upon the large and important island of Cyprus. At the foot of Olympus, too, in Asia Minor, a mission is expected to be planted within a year,—within which time also a messenger, who has just left our shores, expects to find a home beyond the plains of Mesopotamia and the Kurdish mountains.

The receipts of the board, during the past year, have exceeded those of the preceding year by $15,270 65; and have amounted to $145,844 77; which, added to the balance in the treasury at the commencement of the year, $152,522 41 of funds at the disposal of the committee during the year. Of this sum have been expended, in prosecuting the various objects of the board, $149,906 27; leaving in the treasury, of disposable funds, at the close of the past financial year, on the 1st of August last, $2,616 14. In addition to the disbursements just stated, there have passed through the treasury of the Board, from the American Bible Society $5,000, to aid the Bombay mission in printing the Scriptures in the Mahratta language, $500 to aid the Sandwich Island mission in printing the Scriptures in the Hawaihaian language: and $300 to aid in printing the Scriptures in Cherokee;—from the Philadelphia Bible Society $1,500, to aid in printing the Hawaihaian Scriptures;—from the American Tract Society $6,000, to aid in printing tracts at Bombay, Ceylon, China, the Sandwich Islands, and in the Mediterranean;—and from other sources, for bibles and tracts, $120; making the sum total of $17,929; and the total disbursements of the Society, $167,826 37.

LATEST FROM LIBERIA.

We are indebted to Captain Weston, of the schr. William Hopkins, for a Liberia paper, of August 8th.

King Tom Bassa, of Little Bassa, was buried on the 15th of July. Co Bai, a brother of the predecessor of Tom Bassa, had been elected King in place of the deceased.

A free school for the benefit of recaptured Africans, had been in successful operation for some weeks, under the care of the Rev. James Eden.

Mr. Savage, who had recently arrived as Agent for the emigrants, by the Ajax, from New Orleans, was making arrangements to establish a Manual Labor School at Millsburg.

MASSACHUSETTS FREE SCHOOL IN LIBERIA.—We are pleased to learn that our friends in Massachusetts have given their attention to the subject of Education in our infant Republic. We have schools, it is true, but, in a body like ours, which is daily extending, there are always openings for schools. At present, our settlement at Grand Bassa is without any. Our settlement about to be formed at Junk, will be in the same situation; and the chiefs and head men at Cape Mount, now, are clamorous for a teacher; and in their cession of land for a settlement there, the establishment of a school is the chief and most important item in the deed of conveyance. But the Colonial Agent has been unable to establish the school, or occupy the grant, from want of means: there is a heavy expense attendant upon the foundation of every new settlement. Why will not our friends in Massachusetts—throughout New England, raise funds to settle a certain tract or coast to be called New England, or Plymouth, or Boston? We need only call on the friends of the cause.

MONROVIA, Aug. 8.

Grand Bassa Country.—The Grand Bassa Country, like all African territories, has a number of kings, and head men, who style themselves country gentlemen. The chief kings there, are Joe Harris, Tatoo, and Yellow Will, and country gentlemen, Bob Gray and Peter Harris. Though these latter are not kings in reality, yet there are instances, like our friend Bob Gray, where they possess more influence over the chiefs of the neighboring countries, than the regular king of their own country. Such is the case of our friend "Bob Gray of Grand Bassa pon my soul," who, from his political sagacity and other qualities, which shall be nameless, has acquired the name of the African Lawyer, among our settlers pretty generally. And, though the natives prize plenty of money, i. e. cloths, pots, brass kettles, powder, rum, guns, and gun flints, &c. &c., as the only end in view in living in this life, our friend Bob Gray has risen above these false ideas; and whenever fortune has thrown the above articles in his possession, he immediately, to use his own expression, "sends them to the Long Bush, to buy influence, by dashing the kings and head men of the country, and to carry his name." He is perfectly right to secure an asylum to which he can flee in time of commotion, to which all native kingdoms are liable. At present, he never trusts himself at King Joe Harris's, or Tatoo's, for fear that some old palaver of two and twenty years' standing, may be brought up against him. He is considered by the others as a man with two tongues, and more than a match for all the country together, in cunning. We must confess we agree with them, from what little we saw of the man.

It is a pity that a man of Bob's genius should, from his contact with Europeans and Americans, have acquired only their vices and bad habits, instead of that which is honorable. And what is worse than all, Bob is a regular slave dealer, and will not hesitate one moment about the ways and means of acquiring slaves. Little cares he whether he fires a town by night or arrests the unsuspecting victim in the open day. It was on our way to Grand Bassa, that Bob, in want of slaves for a Frenchman, then on the other side of the St. John's river, made a midnight assault upon his unsuspecting neighbors, the Bullom Town people, situated about eight miles to the windward, between him and King Tom Bassa, of Little Bassa, deceased, and after killing eight, among the number his own sister, it is said, and securing ten as captives, returned to his town, glorying in his exploit, and saying that he had revenged his friends, the Americans, upon whom petty thefts had lately been practised, which Bob and his people laid upon the guilty Bullom Town people. Every body cried shame: the kings declared that Bob should set the palaver, and restore the poor captives; but Bob only made promises, declaring his readiness to deliver them up, when the Bullom Town people would give up the ten thieves who had robbed the Americans, and cast a blot upon the fair name of himself and people. Such was the daily reply of Bob for three weeks during our sojourn. We fear some of the unhappy beings have been already passed into the hands of the Frenchman, above named.

Bob has children of his own without number, and some 25 or 30 wives, whom Bob treats with the utmost cruelty accordiug to the caprice of the moment, and loans them out upon interest to accommodate his friends. For you must know, that all civilized men are called white here by the natives, and some of us have become adepts in calling them black men in contradistinction, and fancying ourselves really as white. So much depends upon circumstances. What strange creatures we are. The following instance, among many, fell under our particular notice, of Bob's duplicity.—Early one Saturday morning the Superintendent, Justice, and myself, were invited by a messenger from Bob, to breakfast, informing us, also, that he had killed a bullock. The respective duties of the two gentlemen prevented, and of course a polite apology was forwarded, and thus matters rested until perhaps one o'clock, P. M., when, who should enter the barricade, but Bob, with a whole bevy of his wives, and an old drum, which was struck by one, while the rest uttered a very unmusical sound, and clapped their hands, to the manifest entertainment of Bob, who capered, like a dancing bear, around the semicircle, which was immediately formed whenever they halted.—In this manner, the superintendent's residence was visited without finding him, and as we had fallen somewhat below par, for taking him to task for drinking so much rum and surprising the Bullom town people, no notice whatever was taken of us, and he proceeded to other houses until the superintendent was found, when the dancing re-commenced; Bob acting the drunken man, all in his power, to amuse the numerous Americans around. But all was of no avail, the superintendent and others were too well acquainted with him to be gulled, and immediately begged us to take notice that Bob had some scheme in his head to take up their attention. And right enough were they, for Bob had the day before bargained away two slaves, who were delivered that morning, and received pay for them; and though the Americans, as yet, made it a point not to interfere about the trade, yet Bob always wishes to hide the affair from the principal settlers. Hence his invitation, dancing, &c. &c. After this who will contend that simplicity dwells only among the uncivilized. I think it is Burke who has written in praise of natural society, but he was never in Africa.

FROM PORTUGAL.

By the packet ship Hannibal, Captain Hepburn, from London, we have the Portsmouth Telegraph of the 26th August. This paper does not contain any later intelligence from London, than was received via Liverpool. The following, from Portugal, looks unfavorable to the cause of Don Pedro. —N. Y. Com. Adv.

On Monday last, we gave to our readers the important fact that the siege of Oporto was raised; this information was brought by the Ætna, surveying ship, since when we have the Sparrow and Raven, Cutters. From what we can gather, there is no doubt but that Saldanha, who commands at Oporto, has wofully neglected to seek for information from the enemy's line. It appears that about the 30th ult. Marshal Bourmont silently despatched 8,000 of his best troops, and a quantity of heavy artillery, from the attack of Oporto, under Gen. Clouet, keeping still up all the appearance of a vigorous siege; and on the 7th inst. himself followed with 4000 men.—Nothing was known of this movement either at Oporto or Lisbon, until eight days after, when the occupation of Coimbra was announced, together with the still more important fact, that the Duke of Cadaval had also reached the same position, with at least 6,000 troops, in fair condition.

Saldanha, instead of being quiet in this interval, ought to have made determined sorties upon the remainder of the besieging army; and if he knew the fact of its reduction in numbers, it bespeaks either that he is lukewarm in the cause, or that the Pedroite force in Oporto is far from an effective one.

We fear the latter must be the case, as the besieged party, six days after they were apprised of the abandonment of the Miguelite lines, had not made the least demonstration to advance beyond the mere taking up the position evacuated by Bourmont; nor was it ever known there that Bourmont had despatched a force to the southward, the true reason, we hope, why Saldanha had not been more active.

According to appearances, Napier's fleet will yet have to save Portugal for the young Queen, and it is well for her cause that she has so able a partizan; on him will fall all the exertions to transport Saldanha's force to the quarter where it will be the most useful. To strengthen the Duke of Terceira's left flank, Napier had despatched his small craft to blockade the rivers and harbors between the Tagus and the Duro.

A bad feature, however, evinces itself in the Algarves and the Alentejos; Legos and St. Ubes, so lately rejoicing for the cause of Donna Maria, have neither of them defended themselves against the attacks of small gueralla parties, who have devastated these two places in the name of Don Miguel. The fact is Miguel is preferred to Pedro, and the young Queen, with Palmella for her minister to either. The Spanish prince Don Carlos was with Miguel at Coimbra, and they had been joined there by the Spanish Ambassador in disguise, though ostensibly affected to leave Lisbon in a Spanish frigate for Spain.

The Baltimore Gazette of Saturday furnishes the following additional particulars of Mr. Durant's late ascension, which he declares to have been one of his most agreeable and interesting excursions.

It differed chiefly from his other voyages in being performed generally, at a much lower elevation. One of his reasons for this was the quantity of gas with which the baloon was charged, and which was sufficient to have carried him to Philadelphia. The balloon, at a high elevation would have been in danger of explosion or collapse. He had also determined to direct his course towards Bel Air—and he requests us here to mention that he was indebted to John H. Alexander, Esq. for an excellent manuscript map of the environs of Baltimore, of which he—in common with many other strangers who have visited our city—had felt the want. By the aid of this map, and keeping at a low elevation—in order to avoid the upper currents of wind, which would have carried him considerably out of his course—he was enabled to terminate his voyage precisely at the point which he had fixed upon.

The highest elevation which he reached on this ascension was about 5,000 feet from the level of the river—the lowest, before alighting, about 200 feet. The whole distance from Baltimore to Belair (twenty nine miles) was accomplished in one hour and six minutes. The view of the bay and scenery on this rout he describes as enchanting—and he regretted the want of an intelligent companion (particularly, he says, some accomplished young lady) with whom he could have shared the delight which the prospect afforded him. He sat at his ease, alternately taking notes and conversing with persons below—many of whom were not a little astonished at hearing a voice from the clouds. Several whimsical occurrences took place: a negro woman, with a bucket of water on her head, whom he spoke to, was so alarmed that she dropped her bucket instantly and took to her heels, without waiting to look about her. An old lady, on horseback, was very much bothered with the evolutions and circumgyrations of her steed, which was as much frightened as herself, and finally plunged with her into a thicket of brambles. But generally, the people in the neighborhood were aware of what the apparent phenomenon was, and heartily greeted the Aeronaut as he passed.

A gentleman, a resident of Bel Air, informs us that the appearance of the Balloon worked quite a miraculous cure upon an elderly lady of that town. She had been, for some months, so infirm as not to be able to move about the house without assistance; but, when the rest of the family ran out to witness the sight, her curiosity was so strongly excited, that she followed them, and a tually clambered over a fence with as much activity as a young girl.

The commerce of the Black Sea is stated to be the most ancient in the world.

Polybius, writing nearly 2,000 years ago, described the exports as consisting of hides, honey, slaves, wax, and salt fish; corn was alternately exported and imported. Its present extent and value may be readily conceived, when we take into consideration the amount of the products raised in Poland, Moldavia, Wallachia, and the southern parts of Russia. Odessa, which in 1796 was founded upon the site of a Tartar village, in 1803 had a population of 8,000, and eight years afterwards numbered 25,000 souls. Its chief exports are grain, tallow, cordage, iron, leather, and salt provisions. Much of the wheat is derived from Podolia, Volhynia, and Kerson, but some of it traverses the Dneiper 1,800 versts before it reaches Odessa. The wheat is distinguished into two kinds, the soft and hard, the latter of which is principally used in the fabrication of macaroni and vermicelli. The usual price of wheat is about seventy cents per bushel, and it may give some idea of the value of this article, when we learn that 58,000,000 of the bushels were imported from Odessa alone during the year ending September, 1830. It is a curious fact, that Spain requires annually 3,000,000 bushels from this source, though she exports annually a large amount to Cuba and Porto Rico.

The price of Indian corn is about fifty cents per bushel. The grain market is subject to considerable fluctuations from unfavorable seasons, long droughts, and, more than all, from the depredations of mice, which, in some seasons, have nearly cut off the crops. Wheat flour usually sells at $1 44 the bushel of seventy pounds. Of tallow, 7,000 tons are annually exported. The ordinary freight between Odessa and Constantinople is about $100 for a vessel of 200 tons. The usual charge for wheat is twelve and a half cents per bushel; freights to England are $15 50 per ton at present.

At present our trade with Turkey is chiefly in sugar, coffee, and rum; but there is thought to be great room for some of our manufactures. Cheap furniture, it is said of "all kinds, such as are shipped to South America, would find a ready sale here; cut nails would also, after a certain period, be a valuable article of commerce. The credit of our cotton stuffs is much impaired by the immense quantities of a counterfeit article, with which the English manufacturers have deluged the market; they are put up precisely like our own, and bear the stamp of some well known American establishment.

Our imports from Turkey are opium and other drugs, silk, (raw and manufactured) and latterly some wool. The silk and wool trade are both increasing. Large quantities of the latter have been brought off during the last year. The carrying trade between the ports of Turkey, Russia, and Italy, now mostly monopolized by the Greeks and Austrians, gives continual employment to 2,000 vessels. Our author thinks there will be an increase hereafter of the commerce with Persia.

We learn from the New York Mercantile Advertiser that the amount of the valuation of real and personal estate, in the fifteen wards of the city, as made up by the Board of Assessors, is as follows:—Real Estate, $114,907,013; Personal Estate, $54,474,110; total, $179,381,123. The amount of taxes to be raised for the present year, it is understood will exceed 800,000 dollars, which, with the expenses of collection, &c., will not vary much from one half per cent. on this valuation. The total increase of the valuation of real and personal estate, since the last year's report, is $23,018,461. The expenses incurred by the prevalence of the cholera last year, which are to be included in this year's taxes, amounted to nearly 300,000 dollars.—Balt. Amer.

We learn from the Baltimore Gazette that two thousand one hundred and sixteen shares of stock in the Port Deposit and Baltimore Rail Road Company, were taken last week, being one hundred and sixteen shares more than was required to complete the full subscription. The prompt commencement and early completion of this most valuable improvement, may therefore be confidently expected.

It is stated that Reuben M. Whitney has been appointed by the President, superintendent of the government deposits in the State Banks.

Two Thousand One Hundred and Sixteen Shares of Stock, in the Port Deposit and Baltimore Rail Road Company, were taken, last week, being one hundred and sixteen shares more than were required to complete the full subscription. The prompt commencement, and early completion of this most valuable improvement may therefore be confidently anticipated.—Balt. Gaz.

The success of a belle in managing a troop of admirers so as to secure the devotion of all, by engaging the enemy only in detachments, is by no means uncommon. But it is difficult to find an instance in the annals of coquetry like that here related from "Sharp's Peerage,' just published in London, where three husbands were carried together—in open field—fair fight:—

"Lady Gage, the wife of the first baronet, Sir John, ancestor to Viscount Gage, when first a widow was only seventeen, beautiful and rich; she was courted by her three husbands, Sir George Trenchard, Sir John Gage, and Sir William Hervey, at the same time; and to appease a quarrel that had arisen respecting her, between them, she threatened her everlasting displeasure to the first that should be the aggressor—which, as she had declared for neither, by balancing their hopes against each other—adding, good humoredly, that if they would keep the peace and have patience, she would have them all in their turns—which, singularly enough, did happen."

And who will say she did not deserve them?

Dr. Pratt's Artificial Nipples,

FOR THE CURE OF EXCORIATED, OR SORE NIPPLES—Just received and for sale by JOHN M. SNOWDEN, Jr. & Co., corner of Market and Fourth streets, Pittsburgh.

September 20, 1833.

TESTIMONIALS.

New Haven, May 17, 1832.

I have witnessed the application of the Artificial Nipple, invented by Dr. Pratt. It operated well, much to the satisfaction of the mother. The instrument seems well adapted for such as are afflicted with excoriated nipples.

THOMAS HUBBARD, M.D.
Professor of Surgery in Medical Institution of Yale College, Connecticut.

I have examined Dr. Pratt's Artificial Nipple, and am of opinion that it will answer the purpose extremely well. We have no other contrivance of this kind which affords the necessary relief; and I feel confident that the nipples prepared will be found eminently useful.

JOHN EBERLE, M. D.
Cincinnati, Aug. 28, 1833.

Having witnessed the artificial Nipple, invented by Dr. Pratt, in several cases of excoriated nipples, in which children attach themselves as readily as they would to the natural one, (and received their fill with perfect ease to the mother,) I have no hesitation of recommending it as decidedly superior to any thing of the kind with which I am acquainted.

T. P. BEERS, M. D.
Professor of Obstetricks.
New Haven, May 16, 1832.

I have witnessed the application of the above mentioned instrument in a case of excoriated nipples, and fully coincide with Dr. Beers, in the opinion expressed above.

V. M. DOW.
New Haven, May 16, 1832.

I have witnessed the use of the above named instrument in one case of excoriated nipples; the child nursed readily, and with ease to the mother, and so far as one case could do so, satisfied me that the instrument is a valuable one, and well calculated to answer the purpose for which it is designed.

Public Sale of Real Estate.

IN pursuance of an order of the Orphan's Court, of the county of Allegheny, will be exposed to Public Sale, at the Court House, in the city of Pittsburgh, on Monday, the 21st day of October next, at 11 o'clock, A. M., the following described Real Estate, late the property of Oliver Ormsby, deceased, viz:—

1st. All that certain piece of land, situate in St. Clair township, on the Brownsville road, between 3 and 4 miles from the city of Pittsburgh, now occupied by Mrs. Nelson. This tract contains 49 acres, and 144 perches. There are upon it about 35 acres of cleared land; a substantial hewed log house, two stories high, and a fine bank of coal. It is bounded by land late of Henry Baldwin and others, and is part of a tract formerly owned by Fulton, and which was divided among the said Oliver Ormsby, Henry Baldwin, and William Wilkins.

2d. All that certain tract of land, situate on the south side of the Monongahela river, in Mifflin township, now occupied by Fergus Dempsey and George Ramsey. This tract contains, by the patent, 209¾ acres, and is bounded by land of Johnston Glass, Daniel Reisher, heirs of Robert Hays, Joseph West, and others, and by the river. There are about 150 acres of bottom land on this tract: the well known Ferry, called 'The Six Mile Ferry,' is also upon it. Nearly all the bottom land is cleared. The buildings are as follows, viz: —a log tavern house and barn at the Ferry, and a large frame barn, and a frame dwelling house upon the part occupied by George Ramsey. If desired by purchasers, the tract would be sold in two parts, to be divided by the run.

☞ The titles to these tracts are indisputable.—Any information, respecting the land, or the titles, can be obtained from the subscribers. Terms at sale.

SHERIFF'S SALE.

PHŒNIX BREWERY, AT KENSINGTON,
PITTSBURGH.

BY virtue of a writ of Levari Facias, issued out of the court of Common Pleas of Allegheny county, and to me directed, will be exposed to sale on Saturday, the 12th of October next, at 10 o'clock, at the Court House, in the city of Pittsburgh, the following described property, to wit:

The following contiguous lots, or pieces of ground, situate in Pitt township, Allegheny county, being part of out lot No. 8, in the manor of Pittsburgh: one of said Lots beginning on the south side of the great road, or extension of second Street, and thence running Beale's and Wade's lots, southwardly, down to the corner of Williams' and Redmond's lots, so as to include the spring house, thence by said Williams' and Redmond's lot westwardly, a parallel line with said road sixty feet, thence northwardly a parallel line with the first line to the road aforesaid, and thence by the same eastwardly, sixty feet, to the place of beginning; with the following piece attached to it, and being part of the same, viz: Being twelve feet wide, and extending from the said lot westwardly to a thirty feet street, which runs between Thomas Greenough's and Edward Encell's houses, adjoining Williams' and Redmond's line: the whole being subject to a yearly ground rent of seventy two dollars.

ALSO—One other of the said lots or pieces of ground, beginning at the south east corner of Thos. Greenough's spring house, and running westwardly by the south wall of the said spring house, and containing, in a straight line, one hundred and forty two feet or thereabouts, to a locust post, thence southwardly, in a direct line with the end of Thos. Greenough's dwelling house, fourteen feet, thence westwardly a parallel line with the said dwelling house about twenty seven feet to a street which runs between Greenough's and Encell's heirs, from the great road to the Monongahela river, thence along the east side of said street to the said river, thence up the said river to a post, where a line drawn in a range with the east wall of said spring house would strike said river, and thence by the said line northwardly to the place of beginning: subject to a yearly ground rent of forty dollars. On which are erected a Brewery, Malt House, and the necessary offices, shops, and dwelling houses; the same being generally known by the name of 'Phœnix Brewery, in Kensington,' Pittsburgh.

Seized and taken in execution as the property of Samuel Dunn and Wm. O'Neil, at the suit of Henry Holdship, and to be sold by me,

WILLIAM LECKY,
Sheriff of Allegheny Co. Pa.

The above Brewery was in successful operation during the last year, and every thing attached to it, and necessary, is now in good repair.

PERIODICALS.

AMERICAN RAILROAD JOURNAL, and Advocate of Internal Improvements, which is designed as a repository of the accounts of the rise and progress of numerous works of Internal Improvement, in the United States particularly, and in other parts of the world generally. The work is published weekly, and forms a large octavo volume each year, of 832 pages of 3 columns each, for $3 per annum, in advance.

New York Farmer, and American Gardener's Magazine. This work is designed for the agriculturist, and will be found to contain much, both interesting and profitable, to those who cultivate the soil as a business, or merely a garden for amusement. Published in monthly parts of 32 large octavo pages, with three columns each, at $3 per annum, in advance.

Mechanics' Magazine, and Register of Improvements and Inventions. To the Mechanics of the United States—In this populous and enlightened country, almost every description of persons can obtain knowledge and amusement connected with their peculiar pursuits, through the medium of the Journal or Magazine, especially devoted to their interests. The Theologian, the Farmer, the Philosopher, the Sportsman, and even the Plough Boy, has each his Journal, where he can find a record of the passing events of the day, connected with his peculiar avocations and recreations. Hitherto, the Mechanics (who form a large and most important portion of the community) have had no Journal, to which they could turn, with the certainty of finding that information they desire, no periodical of which they could say: 'This is ours, and for us.' In the hope that the attempt to supply such a want at a price so reasonable as to be within the reach of all, will meet with your active support, the subscriber proposes to publish, on the first day of each month, a Mechanics' Magazine. It will contain a well digested selection of the most useful and interesting articles in the London Mechanics' Magazine, London Register of Arts and Sciences, Repertory of Inventions, Library of Useful Knowledge, Journal of the Franklin Institute, and other works, connected with the arts and manufactures, published in this country and in Europe, accompanied with numerous and well executed Engravings. Its pages will be open for the communications of all, and especially for those of the practical artisan, to whose interest it will be particularly devoted. The Mechanics' Magazine will contain, also, a due portion of the occurrences of the month, Scientific and Literary Reviews of Books, Anecdotes, Economical Receipts, Reports of the state of Mechanics' Institutions, and other Scientific Societies in this state and other countries. To be published monthly. Each succeeding number will contain 64 pages, handsomely printed, and stitched in a neat cover. Six numbers will form a volume, for which an index and title page will be supplied, and also a Portrait of some distinguished Mechanic, as a Frontispiece. Terms, $3 per annum, in advance.

D. K. MINOR,

SATIN BEAVER
HAT MANUFACTORY,
NO. 6 ST. CLAIR STREET,
PITTSBURGH.

WILSON & SMITH, from N. York,

RESPECTFULLY inform the citizens of Pittsburgh and the neighboring towns, that they have commenced the manufacture of the above beautiful and elegant article, so much admired and worn throughout Europe, and the principal cities in the United States.

W. & S. beg leave to observe, that, after various experiments, they have at last succeeded in bringing this Hat to the highest state of perfection, and they can assert, with confidence, that in point of color, lightness, elasticity, durability, and general beauty of appearance, they cannot be surpassed by the most expensive Hat that is made. Gentlemen are invited to call and examine them, and judge for themselves.

Wholesale Dealers supplied at the same prices as in the New York markets.

DOCTOR ROBERT'S
☞ WELCH MEDICAMENTUM ☜

FOR the cure of Dyspepsia, Liver Complaints, Jaundice, Cholic, Fever and Ague, Dysentery, Headach, Loss of Appetite, Flatulence, Hypochondria, Hysterics, Dropsical Complaints, and Heartburn, It also prevents all Bilious disorders, and removes habitual Costiveness, Asthma, Strangury, Gravel, Rheumatism, Gout, and Impurities of the Blood.

A person who uses this Medicamentum will not require the use of the lancet, or any means of the healing art. It restores and revives the animal spirits, invigorates the system, removes nervous tremors, obtunds rheumatic and anthritic pains, and prevents their return. It cleanses the stomach of all morbid humors, which cause indigestion, acidities, headach, and lowness of spirits; cures all bilious disorders, and all cholics of the stomach and bowels, almost immediately; inspires cheerfulness; gives comfort to the dropsical; takes away palpitation of the heart; gives circulation to the blood; restores bloom to the sallow or sickly cheek, and plumpness to the meagre habit; purges without pain, and banishes all cause of fever of every kind. It acts on the stomach, that great reservoir of the human system, a diseased state of which causes all diseases. No alteration in the usual habits of life is required, but the abstaining from distilled ardent spirits.

CERTIFICATE,
From Rev. Derick Lansing, D. D., Pastor of the Second Presbyterian Church in Utica.
Utica, Jan. 6, 1830.

To Dr. Hitchcock.—Dear Sir: I have always been one of the number of those who have placed little confidence in nostrums or specifics, and for this reason, although I saw your advertisement of the Welch Medicamentum, I could not bring my mind to consent to use it. My sufferings, from indigestion, during the past summer, were so severe, as materially to affect my comfort, and my capacity for usefulness. I have reason to thank you, sir, that, on hearing of the state of my health, you kindly sent me your Medicamentum. I have taken it faithfully, and with entire success. I have not been visited with one of those turns of distress, which before were weekly periodical, since I began to take your valuable medicine. Could I receive the same relief which I have hitherto experienced, on condition of taking it for life, I should cheerfully comply with such condition. Your's, very truly, D. C. LANSING.

ANTI-DYSPEPTIC ELIXER.

ONE of the most agreeable and efficacious Medicines ever discovered for the permanent cure of those chronic states of derangement of the stomach, constituting that miserable disease called Dyspepsia.

The basis of this Elixer is vegetables, and perfectly innocent in its operation; it destroys that sour state of the stomach, the instant it is taken, and stops the morbid secretion, by giving strength to the muscular fibre of that important organ, by which means the peristaltic motion of the intestines is increased, and the costiveness obviated; a new action is given to the system, which puts an end to a train of distressing nervous sensations.

Another form of the disease in which the Elixer is admirably calculated to relieve, is the decline of fever, where the stomach will not bear the ordinary strengthening medicines indicated in such cases, it has the surprising effect of giving vigor, and restoring the natural secretions of the body, without increasing the febrile state. Not the least danger is to be apprehended from exposure to cold, while under the use of this medicine, nor will it interrupt necessary employment of the patient a single hour.

☞A number of cases of cures performed by the Anti-Dyspeptic Elixer in the vicinity of Pittsburgh can be given.

GEO. W. CARPENTER'S
COMPOUND SYRUP OF LIVERWORT,

A SAFE and Valuable Medicine for Coughs, Spitting of Blood, Consumption, and Liver Complaints.

Most of the medicines made use of for the above diseases are of a stimulating nature, composed generally of Resins and Balsams, in alcoholic solutions, which, although sometimes givingt emporary relief, in almost every instance where they are freely used, aggravate the disease, and reduce the strength of the patient.

This article possesses superior advantages over these preparations, its action being of a tonic, invigorating and strengthening nature, thus overcoming the disease by promoting expectoration, and gradully increasing the strength of the patient, and thus, without being attended with any unpleasant effects: it also agrees with the stomach, in a cases, and is a pleasant medicine to take.

PATENT PLANING MACHINE.—The right to use this valuable machine, invented and patented by William Woodworth, and known as Woodworth's Patent Planing Machine, may be obtained on application to the subscriber for the counties of Allegheny, Butler, Beaver, Washington, Green, Fayette, Somerset, Cambria, Indiana, Jefferson, Clearfield, M'Kean, Warren, Venango, Mercer, Crawford, and Erie, in the State of Pennsylvania. That part of Maryland lying west of the Blue Ridge; all that part of Virginia lying west of the Blue Ridge, except the county of Ohio. The whole of the state of Ohio except the counties of Hamilton, Butler, and Montgomery. The whole of the state of Kentucky, except the counties of Jefferson, Boone, Oldham, Gallatin, and Campbell. The whole of Indiana, except the counties of Floyd, Clark, Jefferson, Dearborn, and Switzerland. The whole of the state of Illinois, and the territory of Michigan. Rights to use the machine in that part of the United States, named above, will be sold by the single county or in larger districts. As it is presumed that no one will purchase without seeing the machine at work, a description of it is deemed unnecessary. Should any person, however, wish to purchase, and find it inconvenient to visit the places where it is in operation, a machine will be furnished, warranted to plane, tongue and groove, and bring to an exact width and thickness, a white pine board of 12 feet long, and of any width from 1 to 14 inches, in one minute and ten seconds, or an oak board of the same dimensions in 2 minutes and 10 seconds. Machines may be seen at work in the cities of New Orleans, Washington, Philadelphia, New York, Boston, and others at the south and east, at Wheeling, Virginia, and at the saw mill of Messrs. Irwin & Herron, in this city.

Persons desiring to purchase will have the certificates of scientific and practical men who have seen it at work, in the different places in which it has been put up, forwarded to them. They give their opinion as to the great value of the invention, state the time they have seen boards dressed by this machine, and describe the quality of the work as compared with that performed by hand labor.

VALUABLE PROPERTY FOR SALE.

THE Subscriber offers for sale the farm on which he lives, in Washington county, on Pigeon creek, one mile south of Williamsport, on the Monongahela river, to which there is a perfectly level road. This farm contains near 400 acres, the greater part of which is first rate land. There is on the premises a Brick Dwelling House, a Merchant mill, in good repair, a new saw mill, a stone still house, 35 by 40 feet; a salt works is also in operation, and worked to advantage; about 150 acres of land cleared and under good fence. There is on the premises three small tenements for the accommodation of families. This tract is well timbered, and abounds with stone coal and springs of water, both of the best quality.

To a person wishing to embark in a manufacturing business, and possessing capital, this would be a very desirable situation, having the advantage of both water power from Pigeon creek, and banks of the very best coal near to the works, and easy of access, and its vicinity to so navigable a river where articles of any kind are so cheaply transported to Pittsburgh.

For further particulars, apply to James P. Stuart, Merchant, Wood street, Pittsburgh, or to the subscriber on the premises.

TRAVELLERS.

THE LINE OF STAGES between Chambersburgh and Baltimore, on the Somerset and Mountpleasant route, has been doubled, and now runs DAILY, (Mondays excepted,) leaving Chambersburgh at day-light in the morning, and arriving in Baltimore, early the same evening.

Passengers reach Philadelphia, in this way, the second afternoon, from Chambersburgh, without the loss of any rest; taking the splendid STEAM BOAT LINES, which set out at 6 o'clock in the morning, [via CHESAPEAKE AND DELAWARE CANAL, a work well worth the trip to see.]
REESIDE, Owner.

In all cases where the passengers desire to reach Baltimore in time for the 5 o'clock steam-boat to Philadelphia, they can do so by leaving Chambersburgh at one o'clock in the morning, or immediately after the arrival of the Western Mail Stage. In this way, they arrive in Philadelphia, by eight o'clock the second morning, from Chambersburgh.

☞ When a load offers, the stage will run on Mondays. April 23, 1830.—tf.

TYPE FOUNDRY.

HAVING purchased of Mr. Richard Ronaldson, his long established and very extensive Type Foundry, the subscribers have formed a co-partnership for the purpose of continuing said business, and for the convenience of their friends and patrons, have removed their establishment to a more central part of the city. As it is their intention to keep on hand a good assortment of the best type, and to make such additions and improvements as the taste of the trade and the wants of the country require, they flatter themselves that this establishment will merit a large share of patronage. They have now several founts on hand, which can be furnished at a few hours' notice, and are prepared to make founts of all weights and sizes, from Pearl to 22 lines Pica, including a variety of Ornamental Letter. Their assortment of Cuts, Dashes, Brass Rule, and other Ornaments, will be found to be very extensive, of which specimens will be forwarded to Printers as soon as they can be prepared.

Printing Presses of every description, Printing Ink of the most approved qualities, Composing Sticks, Brass and Common Galleys, Chases, Imposing Stones, Cases, Paper and Press Boards, Standing Presses, Furniture, together with a complete assortment of all articles used in a Printing Office, will be kept constantly on hand.

Small founts, suitable for Book Binders, in great variety, may be had when called for.

Orders from all parts in the Union will be promptly and most carefully attended to, and particularly in supplying sorts for all founts furnished by their predecessors, Binny & Ronaldson, and Richard Ronaldson.
